

CANDIDATE FOR THE POSITION OF
PRESIDENT OF THE KTU STUDENTS'
ASSOCIATION

KRISTĖ SKAUDAITĖ
OPERATIONAL GUIDELINES

Come to create, not to eradicate.
Come to serve, not to rule.
Come to receive, but learn to give.
- Arvydas Žygas

- representation of University students based on feedback

Students are included in developments, they are introduced to changes and news regarding the academic community. The Students' Association knows their students and represents them accordingly.

- stronger social well-being of the students

The Students' Association cherishes the students' social well-being in the academic environment, includes them in various activities meant for extending their personal skills and strengthening their psychological health, cares for practical education in relevant topics for the student.

- open communication for the student and for the organization

The external content of Students' Association communication is attainable and relevant for the student – an active member of the academic community. Communication is a way for the student in learning academic information and changes that occur, such as University news, additional possibilities for students and the activities of representatives in Universities governing bodies.

- high quality education for students personal and professional skills

The content of organized trainings is oriented towards the needs and the competence of the student and the members of the Students' Association. An effort is being made to find the best concept for trainings based on experiences from the previous years. Trainings in different fields that are organized by the Students' Association will be open to all of the students from the University. A great deal of attention will be dedicated in increasing competence of representatives in the Universities and faculties governing bodies.

- Students' Association work based on students' trust

In order to fulfill the Students' Association function more accurately, it is essential to know, actively communicate and create a connection with the students of the University and form a practice in the academic community, that is based on mutual trust and honesty.

- Students' Association activity in pursuit of community

The Students' Association is working together to create a representational strategy and setting up goals in order to achieve it. A platform of exchange is created to help members learn from each other, strengthen relationships and help identify fields, in which they can work together. A relationship based on honesty between KTU SA divisions will help members learn from each others mistakes.

- collaboration of Students Organizations and the Students' Association in order to achieve mutual goals

Students Organizations unite their activities with the Students' Association. Setting up mutual goals for SO and SA helps in assuring each organization has a part in mutual activities.